

ANDREAS BENGTON

CV – NOVEMBER 2021

Address Faculty of Philosophy, Oude Boteringestraat 52, 9712 GL
Groningen, Netherlands
Email: theandreasbengtson@gmail.com
Website: www.andreasbengtson.com

EMPLOYMENT

2021- DFF-International Postdoctoral Fellow, Faculty of Philosophy,
University of Groningen
Mentor: Andreas Schmidt

2020-2021 Research Assistant to Professor Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen,
CEPDISC, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University

EDUCATION

2017-2020 PhD Fellow in Political Philosophy, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
Title: Who Should Decide? An Inquiry in Democratic Theory
Supervisors: Professor Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen (primary) and Associate Professor Søren Flinch Midtgaard (secondary).
Committee: Professor David Miller, Oxford University; Professor
Ludvig Beckman, Stockholm University; Professor Göran Duus-
Otterström, University of Gothenburg

2019 Visiting PhD Fellow, Institute for Futures Studies, Stockholm

2015-2017 Master's Degree, Department of Political Science, Aarhus
University

Title, MA Thesis: If You're an Egalitarian, How Come You're Not a Hypocrite? Hypocrisy and Affirmative Action
Supervisor: Professor Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen

2012-2015 Bachelor's Degree, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University

RESEARCH AREAS

Political philosophy, moral philosophy

PUBLICATIONS

1. Relational Egalitarianism, Paternalism, Adults and Children: A Puzzle. Ergo, forthcoming
2. Republicanism and/or Relational Egalitarianism?. Social Theory and Practice, forthcoming
3. The Problem(s) of Constituting the Demos: A (Set of) Solution(s) (with Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen). Ethical Theory and Moral Practice 24 (2021): 1021-1031.
4. Why the all-affected principle is groundless (with Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen). Journal of Moral Philosophy First View (2021): 1-26.
5. Where Democracy Should Be: On the Site(s) of the All-Subjected Principle. Res Publica First View (2021): 1-15.
6. The All-Affected Principle and the Question of Asymmetry. Political Research Quarterly 74, 3 (2021): 718-728.
7. Differential Voting Weights and Relational Egalitarianism. Political Studies 68, 4 (2020): 1054-1070.

8. Dead People and the All-Affected Principle. Journal of Applied Philosophy 37, 1 (2020): 89-102.

9. On the Possibility (and Acceptability) of Paternalism towards Future People. Ethical Theory and Moral Practice 22, 1 (2019): 13-25.

TEACHING

- 2021 Organizer and Teacher, MA course:
'Relating as Equals', Faculty of Philosophy, University of Groningen
- 2019 Organizer and Teacher, MA course:
'Democracy: For whom, and why (at all)?', Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
- 2018 Teaching Assistant, Political Theory, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
- 2017 Teaching Assistant, Political Theory, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
- 2016 Teaching Assistant, Philosophy of Science, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
- 2016 Teaching Assistant, Political Theory, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
- 2015 Teaching Assistant, Political Sociology, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University

GRANTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

2020	International Postdoctoral Fellowship, Independent Research Fund Denmark (DFF), €175.000 (accepted)
2020	Internationalisation Fellowship (postdoc), The Carlsberg Foundation, €95.000 (declined)
2019	Grant for research stay, The Knud Højgaard Foundation, €2.200
2019	Grant for research stay, The William Demant Foundation, €1.500
2017	PhD scholarship in political theory, Aarhus University

SELECTED PRESENTATIONS

06/2021	XI Braga Meetings on Ethics and Political Philosophy, online; 'Democratic Inclusion of Groups'
05/2021	ECPR Joint Sessions, Democratic Equality and Voting Rights; 'Affirmative Action in the Political Domain'
03/2020	Annual Meeting of the Danish Philosophical Society, University of Southern Denmark; 'Relational Egalitarianism as Modally Demanding', with Lauritz Munch
10/2019	Arrhenius-Tersman Workshop, Department of Political Science, Aarhus University; 'Why the all-affected principle is groundless', with Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen
05/2019	Workshop: The Boundary Problem, Institute for Futures Studies, Stockholm; 'The All-Affected Principle and the Question of Asymmetry'

- 02/2019 Workshop: Political Equality and Voting, Centre for Philosophy and Public Policy, Aalborg University; 'No Association and Expression without Representation: On Children's Right to Vote'
- 09/2018 MANCEPT workshops, University of Manchester, England; 'On the Moral Justifiability of a Democratic Revelation Scheme', with Lauritz Munch
- 08/2018 ECPR General Conference, Hamburg University, Germany; 'The Problem(s) of Constituting the Demos: A (Set of) Solution(s)', with Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen
- 06/2018 Workshop: Justice and Future Population Size, Institute for Futures Studies, Stockholm; 'If We Cannot Include Them All in Democratic Decision-Making: A Challenge to the All-Affected Principle'

ACADEMIC SERVICE

Refereeing Analysis; Journal of Applied Philosophy; Journal of Global Ethics; Philosophy & Technology; Routledge India; Social Theory and Practice

LANGUAGE SKILLS

English: Fluent

German: Intermediate

Danish: Native

REFERENCES

Professor Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen
Department of Political Science, Aarhus University
lippert@ps.au.dk

Associate Professor Andreas Schmidt
Faculty of Philosophy, University of Groningen
a.t.schmidt@rug.nl

Professor Göran Duus-Otterström
Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg goran.duus-otterstrom@pol.gu.se

Associate Professor Fabio Wolkenstein
Department of Political Science, University of Vienna
wolkenstein@ps.au.dk